

Jørgen Maurstad Leiros is from Northern Norway and has a deep appreciation for nature, whether it's hiking in the mountains, spending time in the park, or relaxing at the beach. He enjoys staying active, regularly working out and playing football, where he also takes on a leadership role as the captain of his school team. Beyond sports, Jørgen has a creative side, with interests in painting, sewing, and woodworking. He is always eager to learn, currently exploring German, AI engineering, and web development. Passionate about fashion and a lifelong animal lover, he especially adores dogs.
